"Extraordinary Women in Healthcare"
Nomination Instructions

Since April 1908, women of extraordinary passion, energy, commitment, and clinical excellence have contributed to AnMed Health. In recognition of this continued tradition, nominations are now being accepted for "Extraordinary Women in Healthcare 2013."

Awards will be issued in three categories:

The Virginia Gilmer Extraordinary Woman in Healthcare Community Service Award
Nominees for this category should extraordinary commitment, dedication or influence in service to her community, not-for-profit organization, or cause. This award is named in honor and memory of Virginia Gilmer, the founder of Anderson County Hospital.

The Mildred Jones Extraordinary Woman in Health Leadership Award
Nominees for this category demonstrate extraordinary non-clinical leadership and integrity in support of AnMed Health's integrated healthcare delivery system. This award is named in honor of Housekeeping Supervisor Mildred Jones who retired in 1996 at the conclusion of a 45-year career with AnMed Health.

The Gladys Grantland Extraordinary Woman in Clinical Excellence Award
Nominees for this category demonstrate extraordinary clinical excellence and transformational leadership in support of AnMed Health's integrated healthcare delivery system. This award is named in honor of Operating Room Supervisor Gladys Grantland, RN (Ret.) who began her nursing career in 1948 and retired in 2008.
